1000 Books Before Kindergarten at the Bristol Public Library!

5 High Street Bristol, CT 06010 860-584-7787 ext. 2021

 A free program that encourages you to read 1000 books to your child before he/she enters school!

The program is lovingly sponsored by the Friends of the Bristol Public Library!

- Register your child (babies 0 years- children 5 years and not-yetenrolled in kindergarten) in the Children's Department at the Bristol Public Library or Manross Memorial Library.
- Receive a book bag (to fill with lots of books), reading notebooks (to help you keep track of all the books you read together), bookmarks, and reading lists.
- Start reading...at designated reading milestones (100, 200 books...), come to the Children's Department at the Bristol Public Library to get special reading rewards!
- Upon completion of the program your child receives a special book, a reading diploma, a picture on the "READERS HALL OF FAME", a special letter to the principal of his/her new school, and more! Yes, your child can begin his/her academic career as a STAR reader!

One of the very best ways to encourage learning is to spend time sharing books.

Reading to and with your child helps develop important pre-reading skills that provide solid foundations that are key to school success!

Every Child Ready to Read gives parents simple but powerful ways to help children develop the language and other skills they need before they learn to read. This workshop demonstrates how to help children learn early literacy skills, engages adults and children in fun activities, and sends parents and caregivers home with ideas to incorporate into everyday routines. This workshop is intended for families with children up to age five. For more information. Please call the Children's Department at the Bristol Public Library 860-584-7787 ext. 2021 or visit www.bristollib.com.

Every Child Ready to Read is a project of the Association for Library Service to Children and the Public Library Association, divisions of the American Library Association. Support for Every Child Ready to Read is provided by the Connecticut State Library and the Institute for Museum and Library Services, an independent federal agency whose mission is to create strong libraries and museums that connect people to information and ideas.

Early Childhood Center

271 Scott Swamp Road Farmington, Connecticut

(860)773-1350

Linda Rosado, Acting Director LROSADO@TXCC.COMMNET.EDU

The Early Childhood Center on the campus of Tunxis Community College provides a quality program for preschool children and is a model lab school for the Early Childhood Associate degree program. It is staffed with qualified and experienced early childhood professionals, and serves children ages three to five years old (non-kindergarten enrolled). The Center is among a select group in the nation accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), and licensed by the State of Connecticut. The Center is open to children of students, staff and members of the community. Staff members believe that young children learn best through hands-on experiences, and meaningful interactions in a carefully planned environment. The goal of the staff is to encourage the social, emotional, physical, and cognitive development of children in a safe and nurturing environment.

DONNA LEBLANC, author

Donna LeBlanc studied music and musical theatre, became a wife, worked in corporate America, served as a mentor and as a children's choir director, and created her own business in faux finishing and interior

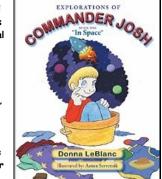

Donna began writing children's poetry in 2009. While observing her nephew act out the characters he watched on TV, Donna was inspired to recreate a story she had written years ago about a boy who played with his toys while sitting in a laundry basket.

As a child, Donna had always dreamed of becoming a teacher. And as a piano instructor for the past two decades, she has achieved her dream. Donna loves her "piano families" and is extremely proud of their continuous contributions to the community. When she is not inspiring her students and finding new destinations for Commander Josh, Donna is managing her decorating business, is a mentor at a local elementary school, and an executive board member on the town's business council.

Donna currently resides in New Hartford, Connecticut with her husband, her brother, and two dog daughters. Sophie and Rosa.

Donna says, "I try to be compassionate and to inspire those I meet. Compassion is a powerful gift we can freely give to each other. And the inspiration that we receive helps to remind us that we never know what our potential is until we test our abilities."

The New Britain Museum of American Art's Nurture through Art: Infant to Teen programs enhance children's appreciation of art through interactive projects, various themes, and engaging artwork. Our programs accommodate all ages and focus on each stage of artistic development in your child's life. Nurture through Art: Infant to Teen receives support from the DECD. If you have any questions or want to sign up contact Katy Matsuzaki at (860) 229-0257, ext. 220.

Programs for Early Learners:

Museum & Me: Playdates with Art (ages 0-2)—This every other month, hour-long program teaches parents and caregivers to talk to their babies about art, recognize and respond to signs of visual stimulation, and use art as a resource to promote visual literacy. Led by Museum educators and docents, the program will explore a different theme each month through a story, gallery exploration, and sensory play session. Appealing to the first stage in a baby's life, this program hopes to introduce art in an engaging and positive way. Classes start at 10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 12, 2014 and Friday, Feb. 13, 2015.

Early Childhood Learning Program (ages 3-5)

—The Museum offers a six-session museum curriculum to encourage creativity in preschoolers. Each visit focuses on a different element of art, through stories, close looking, movement, music, exploratory art making, and reflection. Our program will help prepare your child for Kindergarten by promoting self-expression, creativity, and encouragement through art. Groups may come for the entire curriculum, or visit for one or more individual sessions

Art Start (ages 3-5)—Young children and their caregivers are invited to discover art together and listen to stories on Saturdays from 11-11:45 a.m. at the Museum. This program develops visual and verbal literacy skills with active reading, close looking at a single work of art, and a related art project. Children (and caregivers) will be both entertained and mentally engaged during this period of fun and learning!

Programs for Children:

Art Adventures (ages 6 & up)—Catering to children ages 6 & up, the Museum hosts one or three-day sessions during school breaks from 10:30 a.m.- noon. Children explore special exhibits and kid-friendly topics such as the art of recyclables through innovative art projects. Parents and caregivers are welcome to participate in this intergenerational program to help enhance your child's appreciation of art!

Art Explorers (ages 6-8)—On Saturdays from 10:30 a.m.-noon, students are welcome to explore their creativity by using varied methods and materials to create personal works of art. Themes and projects vary from week to week allowing maximum exposure to diverse artists, artworks, and ways of art making. See what inspires you and get creative! Artistic expression provides a strong foundation for future success by promoting confidence and imagination in children.

Studio@4 (ages 8-10)—Students delve deeply into various art materials, processes, and production through month-long sessions held on Thursdays from 4-5:30 p.m. Each session will be led by different artists-in-residence who specialize in diverse media, and guide students through all stages of the creative process. From conception to completion students receive personal guidance and encouragement from professional level artists! By embracing their creativity, students discover their talents and enhance their ways of learning.

From Dr. Monique Nadeau

When should a child first visit the dentist?

Establishing a Dental Home by Age 1

As a mother, I am often asked questions by other mothers regarding their child's dental care. I don't mind. I love talking about dentistry and dental care. What these questions have made me realize, however, is that there are a lot of moms with a lot of questions out there! I intend to use this blog to answer some of the most commonly asked questions. If you have questions please post them so that I can answer those too!

Before we start addressing specific dental questions though, I think we should start at the very beginning: When exactly should a child first start going to the dentist?

The short answer: Around the child's first birthday.

The long answer: The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry and The American Academy of Pediatrics and the American Dental Association all recommend that parents establish a Dental Home for their child within six months of the first tooth erupting and no later than 12 months of age.

To promote and support healthy families through education and resources that help them understand how to work together to provide a safe, nurturing and stimulating environment for children to live and grow. To increase public awareness about child safety, community resources, and family life through events, workshops, mentoring, and referrals. To collaborate with service providers to sustain ongoing agency networking, ensuring that the needs of every family are met and child abuse and neglect are prevented.

The Parent and Child Center at Bristol
Hospital has a special goal, which centers on the important concept of "Family Life Works". Our primary focus is on prevention of child abuse, neglect and family violence by providing support systems for at-risk families. Our programs are designed to target several areas that have been identified as crucial to developing strong, nurturing families: stress/anger management, family finances, child development, communication skills, effective discipline, and planning/decision-making skills.

Please go to our website or call us to get a full description of all the programs we offer. Some of them are:

The New England Carousel Museum

The New England Carousel Museum is dedicated to the acquisition, restoration, and preservation of operating carousels and carousel memorabilia and the creation of new carousel material, for the education and pleasure of the general public. The main mission of the New England Carousel Museum, a non-profit organization, is to preserve and protect antique wooden carousels and carousel pieces. We believe that the way to accomplish this task is through education. We are in the business of educating the children, who are the next generation of carousel lovers.

The CT Parent Advocacy Center, Inc. (CPAC) is a statewide nonprofit organization that offers information and support to families of children with any disability or chronic illness, age birth through 26. The Center is committed to the idea that parents can be the most effective advocates for their children, given the confidence that knowledge and understanding of special education law and its procedures can bring.

Through outreach efforts and referrals from schools, social service agencies and other parents, the number of families that the Connecticut Parent Advocacy Center serves has grown dramatically over the past 27 years. We continue to take pride in providing prompt and personal assistance to all who contact us. CPAC is staffed by parents of children with disabilities who have training in, and personal experience with, the law and disability issues.

In addition to speaking with parents on a daily basis, CPAC staff conducts in-service presentations for schools, teachers-in-training and service providers throughout the state so that they may better understand and serve the parents with whom they work. Staff and Board members serve on numerous statewide committees and various organizations, representing issues that are of concern to parents and families in Connecticut

Visit www.gsofct.org for LOTS of great information about Girl Scouting!

Girl Scouting's mission statement is to build girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place.

One way we do this is through the Girl Scout Leadership Experience. The GSLE gives girl the three keys of leadership - Discover, Connect, and Take Action. Girls work through these keys as they use Leadership Journeys. In the Girl's Guide to Girl Scouting, girls expand their skills through badges & awards.

On October 1, 2007, Girl Scouts of Connecticut became the largest organization of women and girls in Connecticut, serving over 47,300 girls. Our headquarters is located at 340 Washington Street, Hartford. You can reach us at 860-522-0163, or toll free at 800-922-2770.

On my honor, I will try:
To serve God* and my country,
To help people at all times,
And to live by the Girl Scout Law.
